MEXICO MEN ESCAPE INJURY IN EAST BETHEL PLANE CRASH

Two occupants of a single-engine private plane escaped injury when their aircraft crashed near the Robert Hastings' farm at East Bethel at 8:20 p. m. last Thursday evening, July 11. The craft had taken off from the Mexico airstrip. The airplane was demolished in the accident.

The pilot of the 1947 Cessna 140 was identified as Louis LeBlanc, 49, accompanied by his 18-year-old son, Louis A.

The elder LeBlanc told authorities he was coming in for a landing on the interval when he discovered he was approaching nearby trees too fast. In an attempt to get the craft over the trees, he tried to rev up the engine to clear them, but skidded the tops of several trees before crashing.

Linwood F. Wright of New Sharon, an inspection officer for the Federal Aviation Agency, was notified of the accident.

State Trooper Gerald Smith of Bethel and Deputy George Gilbert of Bethel were both sent to the scene to investigate the accident. Also at the scene was State Trooper Norman Auger of Hallowell.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wight and Mrs. Frances Bennett are attending a three week course, "Inland History of Maine", at the F. Leman Waterhouse Conservation Camp, Bryant Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ryder and family have returned from a two weeks vacation spent at Greenville. Mr. and Mrs. Ryder also attended the Superintendent's Conference at Castine.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Town Manager's office has been moved downstairs to quarters formerly occupied by the Casco Bank and Trust Co. It will be much better for the ones who have had difficulty climbing the long flight of stairs to visit the Town Office.

There is to be a side door installed to serve as an entrance to the back room so that meetings may be held there without having to travel through the Manager's Office.

A room must be provided for the Civil Defense headquarters as we are not renting any upstairs space except we are to have the use of Odeon Hall for town meetings or other gatherings as has been done in the past.

The new pick-up truck was delivered last Friday. We had to wait nearly three months after the order was given. There appears to be difficulty getting delivery on all types of equipment.

DR. HARPER TELLS LEDGEVIEW SUPPORTERS OF NEED OF FACILITY

Dr. Harry L. Harper of South Paris, told 125 Ledgeview campaigners and friends that the need for a facility such as is proposed for Ledgeview Memorial Home is "urgent and important". The occasion was a campaign dinner planned and held at the Grange Hall at West Paris Tuesday night by the Ledgeview Campaign Executive Committee.

Dr. Harper said that the days of the rest home, the old people's home, and grandma's room are gone. "Old folks are now put out to pasture to end their days". He commented on the plans for Ledgeview Memorial Home which will qualify it for Medicare and the physical set-up which will meet the state and federal requirements. Medicare is here to stay, and has produced some good results, he said.

The location chosen for Ledgeview, on Route 26 was praised for its acceptability, its potential beauty—which plays a very important part in health and physical rehabilitation—and the fact that it is easily found. It can be reached by visitors and doctors alike.

In his talk, the doctor spoke in terms of praise for the existing nursing homes and the part they are playing in the health of the area.

He related some of the difficulties in placing some patients with the present available homes full, and he urged that "the time to act on a nursing facility is now".

Ledgeview treasurer, Mrs. Vera Cole, reported $24,000 in pre-campaign gifts and pledges. The meeting was handled by Alden Redding, president of Ledgeview Corporation and Mrs. Marie Eibler, campaign general chairman.

BETHEL TAX RATE SET AT $37 PER $1,000 —VALUATION UP $261,142

It was announced this week that Bethel's 1968 tax rate will be $37.00 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. This is a four dollar increase over a year ago, but a dollar less than was predicted at town meeting time.

Property valuation in Bethel this year totals $8,616,745, an increase of $261,142 over the 1967 total of $8,355,603.

The town, as a result of the formation of a water district, lost $102,695 in Bethel Water Co. valuation, but new construction, extension of buildings, etc., resulted in the announced increase.

A complete layout for all outdoor athletic facilities will be secured from Mr. Murdoch of the firm of Clarke & Rapuano, which will include a track facility, girls' athletic field, and tennis courts, etc. He further reported that final site development plans had been received and the approximate cost would be $50,000.

Part of the custodial staff for Telstar Regional High School will be hired the latter part of July to assist in getting the building set up.

All directors were present except Mrs. Joan Wiese and William Cousing of Bethel, and Ed die Snyder of Andover.

The next regular meeting of the board of directors will be held Aug. 5, 7:30 p. m. at Telstar Regional High School, Bethel.

REQUIREMENTS OF ATTIRE LISTED FOR TELSTAR REGIONAL SCHOOL

Many parents and students have been inquiring about the dress requirements at the new Telstar Regional High School. The following information is an excerpt from the Student Handbook which is being published at the present time, and will be distributed to each student in September. This is to help the students and parents in their purchase of school clothes. The handbook has been prepared by the members of the Joint Student Activity Council and the Administration.

Appearance
Boys—Normal Attire
a. Shirt buttoned; shirt tails tucked in; sleeves rolled neatly.
b. Ties are recommended (no string ties). If a tie is removed, only top button of shirt may be undone. Ties should not dangle loosely.

c. Clean-shaven and no exaggerated sideburns.

d. No exaggerated haircuts.

e. No polo shirts; no sweat-shirts; no non-collared shirts are to be worn with the exception of attire during physical education classes.

f. No boots or boot-type shoes. This type of footwear is damaging to the school floors.

g. No cleats.

h. No dungaree-type pants.

Girls—Normal attire

Christian Science
 The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in Christian Science churches this week is "Life".

A verse from Revelation serves as the Golden Text: "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely."

The Lesson-Sermon also includes references from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. One quotation is the following: "Time-tables of birth and death are so many conspiracies against manhood and womanhood. Except for the error of measuring and limiting all that is good and beautiful, man would enjoy more than three-score years and ten and still maintain his vigor, freshness and promise."

Services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Main and Tenth Streets, Berlin, N. H., begin at 11 a. m. All are welcome.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR
 July 13, 1968

Dear Editor:

The time has come for someone to speak up and enlighten the community on the sad situation that exists in our local Little League baseball teams—this bickering has been going on long enough.

Being the wife of one umpire under attack by one manager, I am, of course, interested; and having two sons playing ball, I am doubly interested; and, believe it or not, I am not intimidated by ranting managers.

To begin with, when the two local teams, the Red Sox and the Braves, played each other, one manager was out for victory before the game even started. Probably a defeat wouldn't have been as painful had they not been so confident that they were going to wipe the Braves off the field.

Is this good management—when the manager starts boasting before they even begin? No, it certainly is not. It naturally rubs off on the boys, and has to the point of some of the Red Sox players not even speaking to the Braves—their old pals!

Little League Baseball is supposed to be a wholesome, honest, good-fun sport—designed to teach the boys fair play and sportsmanship.

A good manager is the first requisite. A poor one can spoil the whole sport for all teams involved. What a shame when you watch a team of boys who are accustomed to fun, friendliness, and fair play go to pot and stop speaking to their chums.

When boys start crying because they are losing the game, who's supposed to boost their morale and assure them everything is O. K.—that the world won't stop, if they do lose?

Boys this age need someone to guide and coach them—not someone who makes a spectacle of himself everytime the base umpire makes a call. It's quite a sight really—a manager trotting in and out of the dugout, waving his score-pad and criticizing every call. Where is there an ump who pleases everyone on every call?

One rule states that "Protest shall be considered only when based on the violation or interpretation of a playing rule or the use of an ineligible player. No protest shall be considered on a decision involving an umpire's judgement."

Some of the Red Sox boys should know that their base umpire that night would not intentionally cheat for anyone. They have had him for a coach in the past, and when those boys aren't speaking to him—someone has been doing some brainwashing.

This thing has turned into a one-sided personal grudge, and it's high time that that someone swallowed his pride! and bitterness, and snap out of it.

This talk of "If heumps my games, I'm not playing," I'll take my boys and go home. This is what has been going on all season—is this what we want our boys exposed to?

Every day we wonder why our world is in such a mess. This type of petty foolishness is a good start toward corruption—poor management, poor sportsmanship, poor guidance and uncooperativeness. It all starts right at home many times.

AN OVERHAUL NEEDED

As one reads of lawlessness and rebellion in colleges and universities throughout the world, including the U. S., one cannot help but wonder what is wrong with the educational system.

John Chamberlain, one of the outstanding commentators on world affairs, in a recent article, writes of the student trend. He refers to it as anarchism. Mr. Chamberlain says: "The very fact that the anarchistic impulse can capture so many young U. S. leftists is in itself a commentary on the sort of education they have been getting in our political science courses."

In view of student and other unpunished lawlessness seen in the U. S., one cannot help questioning the character of our educational system on which countless billions of tax dollars are spent by U. S. citizens. It indicates that on overhaul of our educational program and teaching approach may be needed. As a start, we might teach that the rule of law is the basis of a free society and back it up with a guarantee of punishment for law-breakers.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Celeste Morgan, Corra. —

For a perfect journey I was given a perfect day. Early morning I decided I'd take a boat ride up Sanborn River. From across the pond, as I stepped into the yard, there came the call "Cuck-oo cuck-oo". I said, "Yes, I know, but here I go."

So on this lovely morning "Boat" and I started down pond.

Presently I abandoned the broad highway and turned into the mouth of the Sanborn. To me its one of the nicest water lanes for pure delight anywhere about.

Directly at the mouth of the river Mr. and Mrs. Redwing rose above the bushes and awayed on the grasses fearful lest I harm their nest near by. They quickly persuaded themselves after the momentary excitement that all was well.

Now to proceed into pure delight between rows of deciduous trees with now and then the majestic pine stately and tall rising above.

Except for the dip of the oars and the talk of nature there was no sound.

Occasionally the basso voice of the bullfrog sounded or he leaped from the grass into the stream sending tiny ripples over an otherwise mirrored surface.

Around each bend, and there are many, I wondered what would appear and hoped to see a deer or some smaller animal down for a morning drink. But there were only trails ahead on the banks and tracks in the sand where they had been here before me.

A kingbird had established his perch on a dead limb above several young swallows. Mother bringing food at frequent intervals was driven by the "King" many times before she succeeded at her task.

The coolness of the morning with the perfume of the forest and flowers giving off their different scents was an invitation to move on again.

The notes of the various birds descended from far out of the green and from far up the river.

Now and then a water bug, would nose into a quiet look. First he'd speed up then slow down winding in and out among the shore grasses or keep pace with "Boat".

A butterfly, always beautiful, and in this setting more so, hovered overhead then wended its way to the flowers.

A dragonfly, that voracious beauty with wings like the finest gauze, also out early, flashed away at fantastic speed into the gleaming sunlight down river.

One song sparrow sang again and again, and I turned my binoculars to pick him out, somewhere in a tall tree, as I watched a plane overhead broke the stillness and drowned out his song. But I could tell that he finished by the motion of his throat, unmindful of the interruption.

Here along the meandering stream were great rotting logs and old stumps covered with mosses and blackberry vines. The edges of the river were defined by flowers; the blue flags, elderberry, water grasses, and ferns—all an adornment of an infinite variety.

But after an hour or more on my pleasure ground alive with entertaining sights and sounds and smells I turned back facing into the sunrise light over Noyes Mountain, brilliant in a sky-blue bowl turned upside down.

Rounding a short curve and gazing at a cedar waxwing, this tailored and distinguished appearing bird in its sleek varicolored coat, which had followed me all the way, I ran smack into a projecting stump and one ear drifted slowly toward shore. Retrieving it, once more "Boat" headed down my sparkling trail of cool, silver and blue water. Mr. Waxwing had disappeared. Maybe he had achieved his purpose.

Still waiting at the mouth were Mr. and Mrs. Redwing. He with his Pre-e-e and wings as bright as ever, hoping to take all the attention while she in somber coat flew at his side.

Just turning into the pond a turtle went beneath the ineffable lilies sitting on their round lily-pads, like gracious queens upon their thrones.

At a distance in the marsh grasses stood the Bittern absolutely motionless, watching for what—a fish or a snake? Maybe. He seemed to me to be a "Neck" or a "Gazer," not a bird. He had just enough stomach to satisfy his neck and long legs beneath. Here we call him the "stake driver" because of his unique "pumping" song. He is more often heard than seen and as his call is soft like the cuckoo's, it may have been he who called to me as I set forth. Either way I enjoyed every moment of my journey. He still gazed with no sign of motion as I tied up "Boat", went to the house, collected my baskets, and headed on a hike to the strawberry patch. There with every quart I picked I lived again the coolness of early morning and wished for my little cove of water, placid and clear amid darkened shadows and silver pools of sunlight.

The two moose again visited the Hayes Homestead one evening this week. They nearly brushed noses with "Bill" who had just gone into his truck. From there they went to the end of the patio hoping to enjoy T. V. with Doris and "Rolly". But just as they decided to do so the one ahead was noticed by Doris who immediately exclaimed "There's a horse, Rolly! What's a horse doing here?" Then—"No, it's a moose, two of them!"

The moose casually looked at them as they stepped on the patio but as Doris went for her camera they loped into the lower field beyond the barn.

Their tracks have been noticed in other places here in the "very heart of the City".

Fay Holt, Doris Hayes, and Colette Morgan were in Norway on Friday and had dinner at the "Country Way".

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Curtis, Maxine, and a friend, Mechanic Falls, were callers at Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan's on Saturday.

Miss Mildred Bowman of Haddon recently visited Dorothy Curtis.

Sherry and Brenda Millett have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Oldham in West Peru during the past week.

Maureen has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Coffin in Berwick this last week.

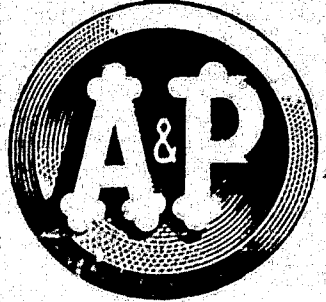

Mrs. Stanley Hakala entertained for her daughter Karen's 5th birthday on Monday. From out of town were Mrs. Barbara Wilson, Laurie and Vicky, and Gina Martin, Locke Mills.

Mrs. Sidney Abbott and children, West Paris, visited Mrs. Norman Millett on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Mills and children of Shapleigh were callers at Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan's on Sunday. Tonda stayed to visit this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Curtis have moved to South Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Patterson of Shelburne visited relatives and friends in this community Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Harvey were at their camp at Umbagog Lake Saturday night and Sunday.

Levi Sturtevant of Middlebury, Vt., with his wife and sister were here Thursday. He was looking for information concerning the Joseph Sturtevant family who lived here many years ago. He brought a tape recorder this time as he was here last year with his brother Walter and could not remember all that they heard.

A large bear is coming out at the Dartmouth College camp where Mrs. Grace Turner tends the gate. The bear seems very tame and a lot of people are taking its picture. The one at the Sturtevant Pond is a smaller one, about a yearling it is thought and is very cute and clever.

LeRoy Olson visited Floyd West at Upton Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Judkins of Upton were here Monday selling lovely strawberries.

I have heard recently that Archie Bennett has been placed in a nursing home but do not know where. He will be 98 on Oct. 7, has lived here all his life until the last few years. He has been living in Auburn since then with his daughter and grandson. Sgt. and Mrs. Frederick Abbott with Loretta visited me on Sunday but did not enjoy the mosquitoes. He built a smudge but that did not drive them away.

Mrs. Carlotta Hart is staying alone at her home as her brother has returned to his home in Massachusetts.

Charles Travers is not very well at present.

My daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Harvey of Tucson, Ariz., sent me a lovely rose colored feather flower for my birthday. She writes that they had had a rain late, the first one in 84 days and that it is hotter there than it had been for many years.
